Using off-resonance laser modulation for beam-energy-spread ...

To improve temporal coherence in electron beam based light sources, various techniques employ frequency up conversion of external seed sources via electron beam ...

Storage ring based coherent light sources

Synchrotron radiation from an electron storage ring holds many advantages such as stability, broad spectrum, multi-users supporting. However, it lacks coherence. When the coherent ...

haixiao connects with energy storage companies

Energy storage can be used to store the intermittent energy generated from renewable sources, ready to be used later when the consumers demand it. Energy storage also serves as a ...
