With hydropower crises and mining giants hungry for reliable electricity, energy storage in Zambia isn't just a technical solution—it's becoming the heartbeat of economic survival. Let's unpack what's charging up this southern African nation. Zambia's energy story reads like a telenovela script. Why should German and European service providers invest in Zambia?

For German and European service providers active in the energy sector, Zambia presents significant potential for business development. There are clear needs across the solar energy and storage value chain, including project development and financing, equipment manufacturing, system integration and contracting.

What will Zambia's energy demand look like in 2040?

The government anticipates that peak demand will be at 8,000 MW by 2030 and 10,000 MW by 2040 (from around 3,000 MW in 2022). It also projects that the demand will be largely driven by mining and agricultural consumers and not residential consumers as projected in the COSS (Government of Zambia, 2022).

Why is Zambia a good place to ship from Germany?

One of the particularities of Zambia, as mentioned earlier, is that the country does not have direct access to the sea. The best port for the shipment of a container of goods or products from Germany or any part of Europe to Zambia is through the port of Walvis Bay, Namibia, because of its shorter distance to Europe.

What percentage of Zambians work in copper mining?

It also accounts for 8% of formal employment (Mr Paul Kabuswe, Minister of Mines and Minerals Development). The main copper mining region in Zambia is the Copperbelt Province, whose main cities are Kitwe and Ndola (which are Zambia's second and third largest cities, respectively).

Where does Zambia import its goods?

The main source countries for Zambia's imports are South Africa, China, United Arab Emirates (UAE), India and DRC. As a member of the multilateral trade system, Zambia is signatory to several regional and global trade arrangements.

Does Zambia have a good solar system?

Zambia benefits from excellent solar resources, with a specific production output between 1,600 and 1,800 kWh/kWp per year. The regions with the best re-sources are the south-west part of the country as well as the region around Lake Bangweulu, east of Mansa.
